Concrete Etc..... By Randy Wegner

I realize a few folks were against the new concrete and or the timing of it. This is the case with every construction project our club has done. But the majority of you approved it in November and I am grateful.

I want to applaud those who voted for the concrete. You show vision and thankfulness for the facility you use. The giant scale guys, who have given their share in the way of time, effort and money, all have expressed much appreciation for it.

Even though it was to cost our club 1200.00 in materials, a simple phone call to a gentle soul with a giant heart, saved the club the 1200.00 they were willing to spend.

We should also remember the people in our club who performed the labor on this project (as well as several other projects for crcm) . It's because of this kind of unselfish giving that we have such a good facility and still got bucks left in our treasury. Imagine what the cost of labor might have been?! And while I'm throwing around thank you's, thanks for allowing this to be a winter project, we didn't lose even one club member to the heat.

Finally, I was not going to mention any names in this but I find one name I must mention. An 81 year old crippled up old man who saw us putting in the concrete and picked up a shovel. He was there two days start to finish. I didn't ask him to help, he wasn't invited nor does he use the giant scale area we were finishing. Don Olson just wanted to help out and he almost brought tears to my eyes (except I was in my macho-guy mode doing concrete at the time).

So if for any reason you want to get a good look at the true spirit of a club, look to Don and the others in our club who really make things happen.

No winners, no wusses, no worries.....just winners!!!

All my best, Randy
